

POLITICAL TRUCE IS ORDERED BY ADOLF HITLER

CHANCELLOR IS GOING TO ALPS FOR VACATION

Von Papen Declares Everything Is Un- settled

By the Associated Press
Berlin, July 7.—(P)—Adolf Hitler called for peace and quiet and ordered a political truce today after the most turbulent week of the Nazi regime.

The Chancellor set an example of outward calmness for the German people by leaving Berlin and going to his retreat in the Bavarian Alps, at least for the week-end and possibly for a longer vacation.

His leaders, who helped Hitler break up revolt with firing squads a week ago today, also were reported resting.

Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen, whose position has not yet been clarified, was smiling when visited in his home today.

Things Unsettled
"My plans are not yet complete," said the aristocratic friend of President Paul von Hindenburg. "Everything is still unsettled."

The political truce leaves him Vice Chancellor, free to come and go as he pleases, although his house still is guarded, presumably to protect him from hot-headed Nazis.

The government still is on the alert, the propaganda ministry indicated, for any sign of renewed efforts of dissatisfied elements to overthrow the Hitler regime.

Activities of secret police will continue through the "truce," which it carried out as planned means that no major change can be made during July.

The cabinet, which rules Germany as a legislative as well as executive body, will have no meetings during the month, it was stated at the Chancellor's office.

Presumably, the government feels that its position is sufficiently strengthened to warrant relaxation on the part of high officials unless their (Continued on Page Eight)

WEATHER

For Jacksonville and vicinity—Fair and warmer weather is predicted for today, with probably some local showers and thunderstorms on Monday.

The U. S. Cooperative Weather Bureau at the Norbury Sanitarium last night gave temperatures as: high 87, current 83, and low 60.

Barometer readings were: A. M. 30.28; P. M. 30.24.

WEATHER

Chicago and vicinity—Fair and somewhat warmer Sunday, followed by unsettled late Sunday night and Monday, probably with a shower or thunderstorms; warmer Monday, followed by cooler by night; moderate east to southeast winds Sunday.

Illinois—Fair, warmer in extreme north portion Sunday, Monday unsettled, probably with some local showers or thunderstorms, slightly warmer in east and south.

Indiana—Fair, somewhat warmer Sunday; Monday unsettled and slightly warmer, some prospects of local showers or thunderstorms.

Wisconsin—Fair in south, increasing cloudiness in north, rising temperature Sunday; showers and local thunderstorms Sunday night or by Monday, with cooler Monday in central and west portions.

Missouri—Fair in east, increasing cloudiness in west, slightly warmer Sunday; probably local showers or thunderstorms Sunday night or by Monday, with cooler Monday.

Iowa—Increasing cloudiness and warmer, showers or thunderstorms in west portion Sunday or Sunday night, and in east portion Sunday night; Monday generally fair and cooler.

Week's Outlook

Chicago, July 7.—(P)—Weather outlook for the period July 9 to 14:

For the region of the Great Lakes—Some prospect of showers early in week and probably again within latter half; warmer Monday and temperatures mostly normal or above thereafter.

For the upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys and the northern and central Great Plains—Probably some local showers Monday or Tuesday and probably again with latter half of week; otherwise mostly fair; temperatures mostly normal or above.

WILL BUILD NEW PRISON UNIT AT STATEVILLE, ILL.

All Penitentiaries In Illinois Are Over- crowded

Springfield, Ill., July 7.—(P)—With state penitentiaries jammed to the doors, Illinois today moved to relieve over-crowded conditions by the construction of a new prison unit at Stateville near Joliet.

The new unit, which will house 2,000 prisoners, will be the third state penal institution at Joliet where the prison population in the Stateville and Joliet prisons reached a new peak of almost 5,000 inmates this week.

The tentative plans were announced today by Director A. L. Bowen of the department of public welfare who stated that State Architect C. Herrick Hammond has started drawing plans for the additional prison space.

Several hundred prisoners are sleeping on cell floors and all cells are far overcrowded, Bowen said. Similar conditions exist at the Chester penitentiary and pressure on all institutions will be relieved by the new unit, he said.

The proposed prison will be built on state-owned land at Stateville, making use of one wall of the present prison and enclosed on the other three sides by cell houses. The present power plant and other auxiliary units will be used by the new prison, Bowen said.

A deputy warden responsible to the warden of the combined Joliet prisons will be in charge of the unit which will house its own dining rooms and kitchen. Use of part of the present equipment will cut construction costs approximately $1,000,000, the director said.

Tuesday the state pardon board will hear appeals of 52 inmates of the crowded prisons for executive clemency. On the pardon docket are 23 convicted murderers, including:

William Sanford, sentenced from Will county; James Caddy, Tazewell; El D. Linsberry, Livingston; and Chester Leo Tighe, Vermilion. Other cases include Frederick Hardy, Tazewell; rape, burglary and assault; Raymond Lacey, McLean; larceny; E. O. Palmer, Adams; larceny; Harvey Richard, Champagne; rape; and Jacob Williams, Peoria; robbery.

ADOLF HITLER LIVES THRU HIS TOUGHEST WEEK

Emerges From Second Nazi Revolution as "Second Iron Man"

By Melvin K. Whiteletter
Associated Press Foreign Staff

Berlin, July 7.—(P)—Adolf Hitler has just lived through the toughest week he has known since he left in 1933, declaring to climb to the chancellery of Germany.

He emerged from the "second Nazi revolution" as the second "iron chancellor."

Never has a German Chancellor spent a similarly hectic and horrifying week.

From dealing with "traitors" in the manner of the frontier Hitler showed his versatility by changing from a gabardine coat to a cut-away and receiving the King and Queen of Siam.

Meanwhile, he had presided over a momentous cabinet meeting conferred hours and with Nazi sub leaders over the revolt and entertained from 50 to 60 persons at lunch every day.

Also he flew to President Paul von Hindenburg's side at Neudeck and tried to persuade the aged president to let him remove from the cabinet Vice Chancellor von Papen, who has become intolerable to certain Nazi leaders since his famous critical speech at Marburg.

No predecessor established a parallel record for quick decisions and speedy action, but even Bismark, the first iron chancellor.

Starting out a week ago Friday, Hitler stopped first at the Rhine wine town of Godesburg where he inspected a labor camp.

Then he flew by night to Munich where he ousted out the Bavarian minister of interior as the sun was rising.

Then he motored to Bad Weisse where he personally seized Ernst Roehm and other revolting Storm Troop leaders, still in their night-shirts in a boarding house.

The shooting which followed was a signal for nobody knows how many killings in Germany.

From this drama he went to Munich where he spent the day at the Nazi brown house, arriving in Berlin by air Monday noon.

His Tuesday was another thriller. The cabinet met from 10 A. M. until 4 P. M. and half an hour later the flying Chancellor was en route to east Prussia to see von Hindenburg, who is the only man standing between him and absolute authority.

He was back in Wilhelmstrasse at 1 P. M. Wednesday, where he remained housed up, receiving fifty or more callers daily until he left last night for his mountain home, which is within easy walking distance of his Austrian birthplace, Baunee.

Franklin business visitors in the city Saturday included Herman Dahman, Lloyd Dahman and Ralph Woods.

Hindenburg And Hitler Weigh Reich's Future

The destiny of a Republic resting on their shoulders. Germany's aged President Paul von Hindenburg (left) and Chancellor Adolf Hitler pose solemnly side by side after the Nazi dictator had flown to Hindenburg's summer home at Neudeck to deliberate on the crisis precipitated by the "Roehm revolution." This historic picture of their meeting, the first since Hitler's bloody purging, was flown to London and thence radioed to the United States.

STRATOSPHERE FLYERS MAKE FINAL TESTS

Men Remain In Air Tight Ball For Many Hours

Rapid City, S. D., July 7.—(P)—A report everything was "pretty well" and that equipment was operating perfectly came late today from within the air-tight metal sphere, four hours after three men began one of the final tests, preparatory to the stratosphere trip scheduled to start in a few days.

Sealed in the ball testing air-manufacturing and other equipment were Major William Kepner, pilot, Captain Albert W. Stevens, scientific observer, and Captain Orvil Anderson, alternate pilot.

Communicating with the trio by radio, an attaché outside the ball said "Hello, Major Kepner, how do you feel?"

"Pretty well," the reply. "It doesn't seem to be cooling off any. Of course the expansion and evaporation of our liquid air and liquid oxygen helps a little. It's 94 in here now." The temperature outside the sphere was four degrees lower.

Determined to take no unnecessary chances, Major Kepner, Captain Stevens and Captain Anderson undertook the test to experience conditions they believe similar to those they will face when the largest gas bag ever built by man lifts them into the upper regions.

Entering the metal sphere, painted half white, half black, following a successful 37-minute test flight with a small balloon, Kepner and Stevens sealed air-tight hatches and set some of the apparatus working.

The men, during confinement, spilled liquid air and liquid oxygen on the gondola floor to create breathing air. Chemicals in bags hung inside absorbed carbon dioxide that remained in the temporary home of the trio, resulting from exhalations in breathing.

ment of the minimum wage principle and the shorter work week, but said: "I speak against the fatal error of attempting permanent recovery on the basis of temporary tones, against the prodigal mistake of trying to buy prosperity and the worse mistake of buying without paying for it."

George P. Getz, national treasurer, said today that the Republican party will try to raise a campaign chest of $1,000,000. As much as is necessary, he said, will be spent to elect Republican congressmen and senators in the "off" year of 1934, and the balance will be saved for the presidential year of 1936.

Among the Orleans callers in the local community yesterday were James Dobyns and Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Ferguson.

JAMES MOFFETT IS NEW HOUSING ADMINISTRATOR

Hopes 5,000,000 Men Will Be Put To Work Soon

By Sam Bledsoe
Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington, July 7.—(P)—James A. Moffett took over the post of housing administrator today with the Frank and smiling assertion: "I don't know much about this job but I think I'll learn."

A week's intensive study of the housing act has convinced him the home modernization and repair phase of the program can be put into operation without delay.

"And as far as I am concerned," he said, "a minor job like painting a fence comes under the head of repair and renovation."

Studies Law
Moffett, vice president of the Standard Oil company of California, said he had spent the week since his appointment in studying the law.

"We hope," he said, "to see about $500,000,000 put into home renovation and repair by next fall and that ultimately the housing legislation will result in the employment of 5,000,000 men."

"I intend to stay here continuously until the modernization feature of the plan is in operation."

This part of the program authorizes government backing up to 20 percent of private loans for home modernization and repair. If a bank for example, lends $50,000 for modernization, the government will guarantee there will be no loss on $10,000.

Moffett said there was no complicated mechanism and that a home-owner who needed money for repairs or additions would ask a building and loan association, a bank or another financial agency for a loan.

The institution will consult the housing administration and if the latter approves the terms, will guarantee that there will be no loss on 20 percent of the amount loaned. The borrower, under the present plans, may not have to offer security.

Other clauses of the housing law include refinancing of existing mortgages and the guarantee of deposits in building and loan associations up to $5,000.

The modernization and repair program comes first, Moffett said, "but we'll work the other out as soon as possible."

Moffett laughed as he said he would get $10,000 yearly as administrator. About a year ago he got a $100,000 a year post with the Standard Oil company of New Jersey to serve on an administration petroleum board. His superiors objected to his connection with the administration and he handed them his resignation.

"I suppose everybody knows," Moffett commented, "that I believe in most of the things the Roosevelt administration is trying to do. I'm trying to get leave from my private job but leave or no leave, I couldn't refuse when the house said I was needed."

REPUBLIC STEEL MAY PURCHASE RIVAL COMPANY

May Acquire Cleveland Plant For Consideration of $33,000,000

Cleveland, July 7.—(P)—Reports that Republic Steel Corporation, third largest in the industry, is planning to acquire within a week the Corbin, McKinney Steel Company of Cleveland for a total consideration of approximately $33,000,000, emanated from steel circles today.

It was understood Hayden Stone & Company of New York is handling the financing.

The steel district also heard Republic is considering acquisition of Otis Steel of Cleveland at a later date in a deal which would involve probably $21,000,000 additional.

Its directors are said to be considering an offer on this basis, but have not indicated whether they will accept.

Acquisition of Corbin-McKinney presumably would include two subsidiaries, the N. & G. Taylor Co. of Cumberland, Md., a tin plate plant, and the Newton Steel Company, which makes auto body and enamel sheets in plants at Monroe, Mich., and Newton Falls, O. In its Cleveland plant, Corbin-McKinney operates blast furnaces, coke ovens and steel mills, and is a producer of pig iron and semi-finished steel products.

Republic, formed by a series of similar mergers arranged by Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland financier, when he was at the peak of his power, has main plants in Youngstown and Canton, O., Birmingham, Ala., and in the Pittsburgh and Chicago districts. It has iron ore reserves estimated at 122,000,000 tons, and coal reserves estimated at 165,000,000 tons.

Reports also were in circulation that the General Motors Corporation is negotiating for the purchase of a few months ago, General Motors was reported negotiating for Corbin-McKinney, but the deal fell through.

The Beardstown community was represented in Jacksonville Saturday afternoon by Carl Maher, Miss Margaret Dickman, Miss Elma B. Golder and Miss Lillian Martin.

Negress Eats Too Many Match Heads In Jail Cell, Dies

Chicago, July 7.—(P)—Marie Madison, 35 years old negress, didn't like her quarters in the house of correction where she was serving a six months term for a minor offense.

They found her dead in her cell tonight. She had eaten match heads, Police said they believe she intended to eat just enough to make her sick so she would be moved to the hospital, which was more comfortable. They took her to the morgue, instead.

COOLING RAIN BRINGS RELIEF TO THOUSANDS

Many Prostrations Are Reported In New England

By The Associated Press

Cooling rains and brisk winds swept the oppressive heat wave from the Atlantic coast states last night after several deaths and numerous prostrations had been reported.

In New York the showers caused a sudden drop in the temperature to 73 degrees, following upon a maximum of 92.4, a record for July 7.

A further break in the scorching 17-day heat wave was predicted for today by the New York weather bureau. The mercury mounted to 137 in the direct rays of the sun, and five Manhattan deaths were attributed, directly or indirectly, to the heat.

Hundreds of trees were uprooted and other property damage done at Tremont, Me., by a tornado wind and downpour.

In New England six persons drowned, five of them in Massachusetts, and two others were killed by lightning, one in Massachusetts and the other in Rhode Island.

Upstate New York reported a minimum temperature of 87 but five deaths occurred in connection with the heat.

Washington, where the temperature has exceeded 90 daily since June 20, showed a maximum temperature of 96 and the lowest mark only 18 degrees less.

Newark airport thermometers also recorded a 90.

High humidity also made the heat double oppressive in New England, a series of sharp electrical storms, which swept Massachusetts without bringing perceptible relief resulted in several persons being struck by lightning. At Ludlow lightning struck and killed Charles W. Reed, 41, commercial traveler of Springfield, and injured three others who had taken shelter under a tree on a golf course.

At Smithfield, R. I., one man was killed by lightning when he sought shelter from a storm beneath a small shed. Another man was reported injured.

Boston, drooping in the ninth day of the heat wave, had a humidity reading of 78, one of the highest in 63 years, while at Concord, N. H., it was three per cent higher.

Far north, at Portland, Me., the thermometer registered 95.

Meanwhile, southern states, the middle and south west sections experienced cool weather. Omaha, Neb., reported the lowest July temperature in 10 years.

Will Investigate Drinking At Play Grounds By Boys

Rockford, Ill., July 7.—(P)—The stories of two boys in juvenile court have resulted in an order by County Judge George T. Liddell for an investigation of alleged drinking by minors in a local playground at night.

The two boys were found intoxicated in the park Wednesday and in juvenile court yesterday said that a group of 15 to 20 boys ranging in age from 12 to 16 had participated in the drinking.

Mrs. Lucille Cook, county probation officer, was ordered to determine the source of the liquor supply. A 17 year old youth was fined $20 on the complaint of parents as allegedly selling liquor to minors.

CONDITION UNCHANGED

Santa Barbara, Calif., July 7.—(P)—An "unchanged" bulletin was issued today from the pale blue and copper colored bedroom where Marie Dressler, grand old trouper of the stage and screen, is critically ill, but constant bedside attendants reported an almost imperceptible daily slipping and growing weakness.

During daily returns to consciousness, which are growing shorter, the 62-year-old actress heeds tend to her letters, which have poured in from countless friends and admirers over the world.

Allen Breed Walker, resort owner, and Mrs. Walker, close friends of the actress, are the only ones now admitted to the sick room in the home on the estate of C. K. G. Billings.

2,000 NATIONAL GUARDSMEN ALSO KEEPING WATCH

Police Fear Downtown Buildings May Be Wrecked

San Francisco, July 7.—(P)—Additional machine guns, manned by policemen, were rushed suddenly to various downtown buildings at San Francisco today to reinforce the line of machine guns and bayoneted rifles in the hands of 2,000 national guardsmen on duty at San Francisco's waterfront, the scene of riots Thursday in which two men were killed and many injured in clashes between police and striking longshoremen.

Except to say "threats" had been made, no explanation was given for the police activity. It was not explained that the "threats" were the police machine guns were put in positions outside the national guard sector.

Police headquarters said the blue-coat guard assignments included ten men on a 24-hour basis at a warehouse in the industrial district, an undisclosed number at the San Francisco Industrial association; five each at the establishments of the two morning newspapers and one each at the plants of the two afternoon dailies.

Individuals at the various points guarded declined to amplify the police explanation of the assignments.

Under the murder of the sons of the guardsmen who were called out after the riot, the waterfront remained outwardly quiet, while the possibility of a general strike in the city hovered in the background.

A strategy committee representing 45,000 members of 130 labor unions here met this morning and proclaimed the determination of organized labor to stand behind the striking longshoremen and marine workers. Representatives of the union said they would support a general strike against the city government if the city government refused to accept the demands of the union.

The "labor council" and Edward Vandenberg, who was named chairman of the strategy committee, "is going to insist that we protect the strike on the waterfront with everything at labor's command. The council is behind the fight and I want the wind to blow in our favor."

One of the first steps of the strategy committee was to meet representatives of the longshoremen, marine workers to advise them on procedure before President Roosevelt's labor supplies board, which decided yesterday to use its authority under the new congressional enactment on collective bargaining. The board will hold hearings on its own initiative Monday.

In Portland, Oregon, meanwhile, striking waterfront workers who have pledged themselves to "letory or death" blocked the movement of 15 railroad cars to a municipal terminal where freight was to have been loaded on transcontinental coaches. A general strike in Portland also was considered possible.

The strike, which began May 9, centers around a dispute between shippers and longshoremen over the operating of "hiring hall," where stevedores are employed to work ships. The strike spread until it involved other maritime unions and affected around 27,000 workers. Efforts to settle the dispute have been unsuccessful.

Shipping has been tied up, and the plight of behavior in San Francisco today began to show ramifications in nearby communities. Automobiles and the vegetable growers association of Alameda and Contra Costa counties, in the east bay area, had been warned its truck drivers would not be liable if they continued to transport produce into San Francisco and adjoining cities.

To and fro along the line of machine guns and glinting bayonets, non-union workers continued to load cargo from badly congested San Francisco piers to warehouses in the heart by industrial district. The guard and everything on the state-owned waterfront area in its martial grip. There was no attempt at violence and commanding officers said no indication of resistance had come from strikers since the militia moved in Thursday night.

Although the labor council met today for the time being at least the idea of a general strike in favor of a strategy committee to work with the longshoremen and marine workers to advise them on procedure before President Roosevelt's labor supplies board, which decided yesterday to use its authority under the new congressional enactment on collective bargaining. The board will hold hearings on its own initiative Monday.

Taking cognizance of published charges the longshoremen and marine workers were harassing the strategy committee to investigate and report to the public an answer to "these slanderous innuendoes and vicious attacks on the labor movement."

A Good Payment

Citizens who have been watching
the construction of the South Main arterial, claim it is a good
one. When it is completed the city will have a splendid thoroughfare, and it will not cost the people a penny in taxes or assessments. At the same time it has been a source of income to scores of Jacksonville people and has greatly helped the unemployment situation here.

The brick forming the surface of the pavement are being laid with precision on a durable concrete base. The surface coating and filter give the pavement smoothness, and the brick rest on an asphalt cushion that permits riding under heavy traffic.

When completed South Main street
will carry the traffic of two cities.
The new pavement has been designed with the idea that it will stand up under the hard use and will serve the people of this community for many years to come.

Conservation in Morgan
County

The Department of Agriculture has recommended as a part of its program
to retire thousands of acres of marginal land and to thereby curtail production that farmers retort the portion of their land which by voluntary agreement is to lay idle. Reclamation is valuable from several standpoints. Trees are one of nature's best protection against soil erosion. They also, in time of drought, such as
at present, the average farmer
appreciates greatly the advantages which wooded areas offer in holding moisture in the ground. Trees are also a great boon in serving as windbreaks. The severe dust storms of last spring would not have occurred if the Middle West had been adequately wooded. The intrinsic value of trees
as the source of supply for building material, of course, cannot be overlooked. Yet, aside from the many material advantages of forested areas,
no one can deny that clumps of trees
beautify the land and give one a sense of intimacy with nature.

In connection with this campaign to promote reforestation, a program to increase our supply of wild life, birds
and small animals, goes hand-in-hand. Idle land can be utilized to provide cover for game at the same time forests are gradually growing.
Information as to the best methods of securing cover for pheasants, quail,
and other species of game may be obtained merely by writing to the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

There is no apparent reason why farmers should not join in this movement to conserve our wild life. The land is available. The government is not only sponsoring the campaign by giving out assistance, but it is also paying cash bonuses to keep the land
out of cultivation.

Naturally, the sportsmen of the country are wholeheartedly behind this program. They are anxious to see their old hunting haunts restored.
Real sportsmen realize that it is up to them to cooperate with the farmers who own the land in order to promote conservation.

They realize that it is only right to give permission to hunt on private grounds, that they should take good care of the farmer's property, and that they should live up to the game
laws and not take more than their share.

Unfortunately there are always a few who go whole hog and who know of no Sportsman's Code. These few are to blame for all the "No Hunting"
signs posted throughout the country.
However, the signs do not stop game
hunters; such hunters are only respected by sportsmen.

But in spite of the fact that there are a few hunters who take advantage of the generosity of the farmers, our supply of wild game should not suffer for this reason. Neither should well meaning gentlemen be deprived of a great recreational sport, hunting.

Morgan County farmers should not overlook this opportunity to replenish
and conserve wild life in this region.
For the little trouble it requires, such work yields large dividends.

Naughty at Nice
While the Dutch are having their trouble in Amsterdam, and the Nazis
are cleaning up after the revolution in Germany, American blackheads have taken the opportunity to renew their friendly relations with people they met in France during the world war,
and especially after the Armistice.
Sailors from the battleships Arkansas
and Wyoming were granted shore
leave at Nice, France, and proceeded to make an evening of it.

As a result, 26 sailors were injured,
one seriously, and a French chief of police was put out of commission for a couple of weeks. It was a very night, and the damage to property amounted to more than $1,500. The sailors tried to take possession of several places
and as many French ladies as they could find. Nice citizens resisted and the battle was on. The sailors lost when a riot squad from their own ship rushed ashore and herded them back aboard ship.

This move will not strain diplomatic relations between the United States and France. The latter country can charge off the damage on what she owes us; but if we are ever to balance accounts, the sailors will have to tear up several more French salons and casinos. Even so, it is disastrous to have such affairs; it does not help international friendliness and gives the American people a bad reputation.

Plenty of Money

Chicago banks in response to the call for statements issued the past week reported more than $2,000,000, 000 on deposit. There has been an increase of $207,787,000 in deposits in these banks since the last call in March. At the same time the amount of loans and credits extended is the lowest on record, $596,450,000. The amount of loans and credits has scarcely ever fallen below $600,000, 000.

This money is on hand in fifty banks. Back in the boom days there were 128 banks, and the deposits were only a little under three billions. Confidence in Chicago banks has returned as the steady increase in deposits the past three months indicates.

The figures prove that there is plenty of money available to finance
business and industry. It is a mystery why the government had to pass
a law permitting it to loan money to private industry thru the RFC. It would seem that private capital is available for all purposes.

Differed from the act authorizing loans to private business is the government, leaving all. This is devised to finance a nationwide construction program thru the use of private capital for guaranteed loans.
It is estimated that $3,200,000,000
is needed to bring the country's housing facilities up to par, and that the job
of doing it will employ a million workers in the construction and building trades. No doubt some of Chicago's immense capital reserve can be turned into this channel and get to work to restore prosperity.

He Defied Tradition

One cold morning in December,
1933, readers of the Chicago Tribune were startled into forgetting the breakfast coffee when they cast their first glance at the first page.

It was almost exclusively a list of names—the names of 375 persons who perished in the famous fire the day before.

The public was no more startled by the display of hundreds of names in black type than editorial workers of other newspapers. The Trib had done something entirely out of line with good newspaper makeup. The page filled with names was far from comforting with the ethical standards of what a front page of a metropolitan newspaper should be. But the subject matter—a human tragedy in each line
of type.

Instead of stream-line banners,
large type and photographs of the victims, the Tribune featured the names of the victims instead of general facts. To the inside pages were relegated the details of the catastrophe.

The idea was that of James Keeley,
then managing editor of the paper.
Astounding his fellow editors in "covering" the great news story of the fire, he reasoned that Chicago readers were primarily interested in the identity of the dead.

Keeley died last week, age 66, and at the end of a career that took him
from the newspaper business from
job to publisher, then into big business and the vice presidency of the Pullman Company. But nothing he did after he sold the Chicago Herald
to Hearst and became advertising
counselor for some of the large meat
packers, ever rivaled his sensational treatment of the fire-tragedy.

Keeley worked for years at the routine tasks of newspapers following the ethics of the profession, getting out Page 1 as tradition demands, with large heads and stories well balanced.
But it was the time he departed from all rules of "form" that his work really attracted attention. It was a daring idea on the part of the editor, but it worked.

This is often true in many lines of endeavor. The stereotyped methods are accepted for what they are worth.
Then along comes an inspired fellow
and upsets all standards with an outstanding performance. Keeley saw a chance in the awful death toll of the Tribune fire to get away from the conventional makeup on his newspaper. The Fourth Estate will remember him for it.

Where Will It Land?

Quincy Herald-Whig
Interest in this stratosphere balloon flight to be made in a few days is heightened by the fact that prevailing currents in this gloomy region above
the earth's atmosphere are a little south of east. The balloon is to make its ascent near Rapid City, N. D., and a drift a little south of east will take it into some fortunate community in Nebraska, Iowa, northern Missouri,
western Illinois or possibly southern Wisconsin, depending upon how long the ascension lasts and the speed of this "air drift."

The National Geographic society in one of its bulletins refers to the speculation regarding where the balloon,
with its precious cargo of scientific information, will come to earth after
the memorable visit into a region,
which, though only fifteen miles from the surface of the earth, has never been thoroughly explored. The flight is being undertaken jointly by the Geographic society and the U. S. army corps. The tentative date set is July 30.

Will it land near Quincy? Such a possibility is, of course, not at all remote. Of the six balloons that have previously entered the mysterious stratosphere all have drifted to the southeast.

The carrot-shaped bag in which the voyagers are to go to unexplored
heights carries a sealed gondola or cabin in which the observers are stationed and from which they make scientific observations. The flight will be made with several gasbags or "levelings off," so that observations may be carefully made. It is expected that about three hours will be used in reaching the "ceiling" of the earth's atmosphere, a matter of fifteen miles above level. Stops by using gas-bags and ballast, will be made at heights of about seven and eleven

miles in the ascent. Four hours will
be spent on the "ceiling" where the
sun falls, because there is no atmosphere, to bring conditions of daylight
and a leisurely descent will be made
in four hours.

We shall know more about the upper
air or rather the belt of space that encircles the earth where there is no
air, when these argonauts return.

The New Deal
in Washington

Kennedy Selection as SEC
Chairman Rated Political
Payoff . . . Cohen Kept Off
Board by Lehman Advice
. . . Ickes Adds to Reputation as Wisecracker.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent.

Washington, July 7.—In politics it's called "the payoff."

Joseph P. Kennedy got his when Roosevelt jammed him in as chairman of the new Securities and Exchange Commission, which will regulate the stock markets and issuance of stocks and bonds.

Outside of politics, Kennedy was known as a hard-boiled, able financier of New York and Boston, a
"Wall Street" who had participated in one of the stock market pools exposed by Ferdinand Pecora in the Senate investigation—the sort of pool
the SEC is required to prevent.

Inside of politics, Kennedy was one of the four men who tossed in $10,- 000 apiece to the Roosevelt pre-convention campaign, an intimate friend
of both Roosevelt and Jim Farley, who traveled with them much during the campaign and a rent to whom
the Democratic National Committee
now owes $30,000.

It seems that Kennedy, feverishly
opposed by authors of the Securities
and Stock Market Acts, could have had almost any old job in this administration. He demanded this one and he got it.

Roosevelt's fondness for a friend
was chiefly responsible. Chairman Fletcher and Rayburn of the Senate and House committees which sponsored the regulatory acts both urged that he be kept off the commission.

The appointment was a compromise
between the liberals here and Wall Street, which wanted at least two of its own folks on SEC. The liberals wanted no more than one Wall Street and sought the chairmanship for either Ferdinand Pecora, who exposed the Wall Street rackets, or Jim Landis, co-author of the acts.

They won part of that when Roosevelt named what are now known as the "Four Horsemen" of strict regulation—Pecora, Landis, Robert E.
Healey, and George C. Matthews. But
Chairman Kennedy was stuffed down their throats.

Kennedy, according to word from the White House, is a "reformed speculator." But the "Four Horsemen" are looking at him askance.
Without consulting them, he started offering SEC jobs to friends in New York—which means an internal dog
fight unless straightened out.

Also, it's recalled that Farley has a brother with Wall Street's Theodore Prince & Co. and that Emil Hurja
was with Ben Smith, the bear raider
who went to Australia when Pecora wanted him here, before he came to be Farley's patronage lieutenant.

Lehman Keeps Jew Off SEC
It was Gov. Herbert Lehman of New York, a Jew and former partner
in Lehman Brothers, Wall Street
bankers, who persuaded Roosevelt
that no Jew should be appointed to SEC.

Politics and friendship did the rest
and barred Ben Cohen, who, with Landis and Tom Corcoran of RFC, wrote the Securities and Stock Exchange acts, and was backed by Fletcher and Rayburn.

Ickes Wisecracks
Secretary of the Interior Ickes continues to defend successfully his reputation as the cabinet's champion wisecracker.

"Is it true," he was asked, "that you have made a $29,000,000 allotment to Allegheny county, as the Pittsburgh papers reported this morning?"

"Gosh," said Ickes, "it must be as hot there as it is here."
"Along that same line, Mr. Secretary—"
"Did you say, 'Along that same lying'?" he demanded.

After admitting that 25 millions really had been allotted, Ickes went
on grumbling:

"Every time I step outside the office someone asks me for 10 or 15 million dollars. I went over to see the president the other day and as I started to leave, Colonel MacIntyre said to me, 'Mr. Ickes, will you just talk to this gentleman for a few minutes.' Well, he was easy. He wanted only 12 million!"

valves and ballast, will be made at
heights of about seven and eleven
miles in the ascent. Four hours will
be spent on the "ceiling" where the
sun falls, because there is no atmosphere, to bring conditions of daylight
and a leisurely descent will be made
in four hours.

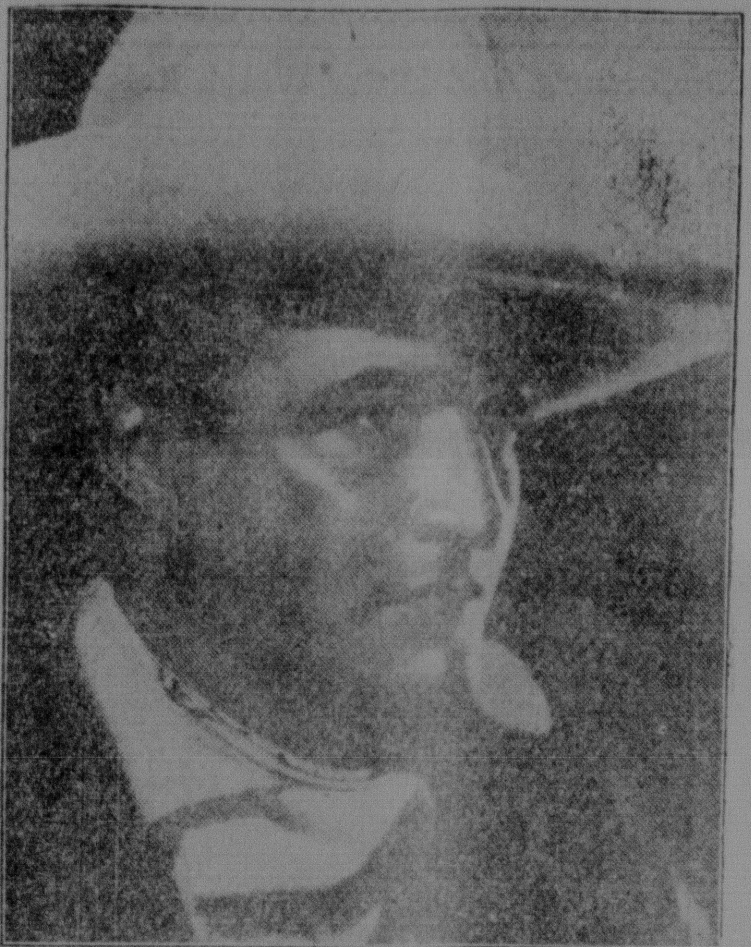

We shall know more about the upper
air or rather the belt of space that

SO THEY SAY!
I have not the least doubt that within the next 10 years we shall see even greater prosperity than we have known as a nation—and prosperity of the real kind that benefits everybody.

—Walter P. Chrysler.

I don't give a damn if Mrs. Piermonte does object to my fighting—I'm going to fight.
—Enzo Piermonte, boxer-husband of the former Mrs. John Jacob Astor.

of Americans, because neither has sufficient emotional and spiritual warmth.

Wallace.

Tom Mix in Person, Heading Dill Circus
Here Tuesday.

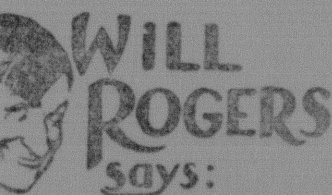

Tom Mix, the distinguished and tried film star, who is heading Sam B. Dill's Three Ring Circus, here July 10, in person, with a massive company, could very well ascend the platform of pedagogy and administer an A-B-C lesson in courage to all of the quitters and wholly or partially discouraged persons in the universe.

Tom Mix has no business being alive. He has no right to be active—being one of the finest horsemen in existence—being the peer of all Western actors at this or any other stage of the game. He has exhausted more than the proverbial nine lives.

Learned physicians and surgeons have pronounced the grim and final words: "Tom Mix cannot live" on exactly eleven occasions. Precisely eleven times there have been wrong.

Tom Mix was only fourteen years old when his hardy parents took him to town on a holiday, "town" being Pony Track, Texas. In this case, the occasion of Tom's earliest mishap. Wide-eyed Tom gaped about in the awed interest of the awky young fellow that he was. Then—bang, bang, bang! The sheriff's posse spotted a desperate bandit group. They dismounted and opened fire with the huge 45's of old, and young Mr. Mix chanced to be standing in the path of two of their boring bullets.

"He'll never walk" the doctors sagaciously opined; he'll probably die, anyway. The young fellow fooled them, and nurtured his way back to health and the Texas plains. But Mix will be here in person Tuesday.

Will Rogers says:

To the Editor of The Journal-Courier:
Beverly Hills, Calif., July 7.—All I know is just what little I see in the papers, see today where Mr. Roosevelt is putting a "blab" (you know what a blab is? It's a thing you put over a call's mouth to keep it from eating between meals) well he is putting a "blab" on these so called
"officials" who are making speeches around the country trying to tell what the new deal has in mind. He has informed em, "you go ahead and deal,
and shut up about it, a dealer is not supposed to entertain along with his dealing." So the next time you hear a fellow speaking for the white house,
you just holler "Yeah?"
Yours, WILL ROGERS

To Discourage Plan
of Returning Goods

Chicago, Ill., July 7.—An effort to minimize the abuse of returned goods
privileges of direct benefit to customers in contributing to lower prices of merchandise, is being planned in a number of Illinois cities where merchants and consumers alike are realizing the costliness of these abuses
according to the Mercantile Division of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

"Carrying out a program to reduce these abuses," says J. T. Meek, secretary of the State Chamber's Retail Division, "is of great benefit to both merchant and customer. Merchants are anxious to educate the buying public to the fact that abusing the customer is always right" privilege simply means that somebody—a consumer—must pay the losses in the long run. Reputable merchants make no difficulty about the return of any purchase discovered to be damaged or inferior in quality to that claimed for it as it was sold. But they are wholly justified by sound business principles and by common courtesy in placing a limit upon these privileges. Customers who protest against the cost of many items, should realize that the costliness of taking care of chronic returners of merchandise is an intergal part of the higher cost."

Mr. Meek added that a number of cities have fair rules for returned goods which shoppers should gladly abide by. Leading Chicago merchants, for example, have rigid rules which,
upon explanation to the customer,
have proven practical in materially cutting costs. "What is most needed,"
he added, "is for consumers to realize the economic waste of needless returns and to bear in mind that these added costs also make it that much more difficult for merchants to retail employees under the new deal program in general. Certainly the store losing money partially because of the abuse of returned goods privileges is not going to have more jobs to fill.
Curtailling such abuses is simply another way in which the merchant
and consumer can cooperate for mutual profit."

State Band Will Go
to Mattoon Meeting

The Jacksonville state hospital
band, Bernard Strongman directing,
will leave early Sunday morning for Mattoon to play at the fourth division
convention of the American Legion,
and to participate in the convention
parade. The Belleville and Peoria and Logan county Legion bands will also be on hand for the gathering.

Rev. Fr. Frank Lawler, state Legion
chaplain, will speak to a gathering of Gold Star mothers at Mattoon at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning, and will open the general convention session at 10 a. m. Commander John Larson of the local Legion post and other Legion officers and members from here are planning to attend the convention.

Jersey County Has Forty Acre Yields

Jerseyville, July 7.—Excellent reports relative to exceptional yields of wheat in this section of Illinois continue to pour in. Surprise after surprise is being registered and some fields promise to set a new acreage for wheat yields in this locality.

J. H. Strablow of the Pasa vicinity reports that thirty eight acres of his wheat ran an average of fifty bushels per acre. Charles Rhine, who lives across the Jersey county line in the vicinity north of Modera had a yield of forty bushels to the acre.

A number of fields in the Nutwood district have been reported that averaged forty bushels to the acre. The champion field in the district reported thus far is that of a forty acre tract which averaged forty four bushels. The field was the property of Howard DeVerger.

A field in the same district belonging to Mrs. Frank E. Stelle of Jerseyville averaged 40 bushels to the acre. On the farm of Francis Allen, northwest of Jerseyville an average per acre of forty two bushels was maintained.

According to reports the best average test of wheat was obtained by Louis Irsinghausen of the Fieldon vicinity. The yield from forty acres was 1,545 bushels, an average a bit less than forty bushels per acre, but the test was exceptionally high, the wheat weighing 60 1/2 pounds per bushel and grading Number One. Irsinghausen delivered the wheat to an Alton elevator which paid him a premium of one cent over the market price because of the excellent quality of the grain. He received 86 cents per bushel for the wheat.

Robert Darr who operates what is known as the Fern farm near the eastern limits of the city of Jerseyville threshed wheat that averaged 34 bushels on forty three acres.

The highest average for Jersey county is reported from the Addison Gerson farm where 15 acres averaged 47 bushels per acre.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Henry Bates
Sarah Ellen A. Bates, eldest daughter of Mary Ann and Dennis A. Bates, was born in Scott county, Ill., Oct. 24, 1870. She departed this life July 3, 1934, at the age of 64 years, eight months and nine days.

She was united in marriage to William Henry Bates Aug. 5, 1870. To this union nine children were born, five daughters and four sons, namely, Mrs. Arthur Flynn, Mrs. Monty Pile, Mrs. Carl Thomas of Winchester, Ill., Mrs. Harvey McCool of Petersburg, Ill., Mrs. Ned Hoover of Decatur, John of Winchester, Charles of Bluffs, Albert of Jacksonville and William, who preceded his mother in death while in service in the World War.

She was a member of the Winchester Christian church and was ever faithful to every task assigned her in service toward her church.

In her passing she leaves besides her children, her husband, William Henry Bates, one brother and three sisters, also twenty-three grandchildren, seven great grandchildren, besides friends whose number is legion.

Funeral services were conducted from the Winchester Christian church Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. R. L. Schwab officiating.

Music was furnished by Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Webster, Mrs. Bert Coulter, A. C. Booz, Misses Betty Leach and Helen Schwab. Miss Ethel McClure was organist.

The flowers were cared for by May Bates, Margaret Bates, Mary Helen Casey, Margaret Anders, Maxine McCool, Lois Bates and Jean Hoover.

Interment was in the Winchester cemetery, the pall bearers being Robert Bates, Albert, Harry and Jay Flynn, Donald Casey and Bert Anders.

MRS. J. I. GRAHAM WILL BE

Don't You Need a Few More Cool Smart Frocks?

PATTERNS 1852 AND 1757

Just about this time of year . . . with warm weather well under way, woman is apt to discover that she has underestimated the number of frocks she needs to keep fresh and dainty. When it is cool, it just doesn't seem possible that one would bother to change several times a day, but when the thermometer begins doing that "sky is the limit" stunt, one does, and does it!

Pattern 1852 can be made in several ways, and in each way it is a little prettier than the preceding one. For example . . . don't you find it attractive in a print, as in the large sketch? The big, becoming collar . . . which, by the way, makes the hips look very slender . . . shows the pattern in the material charmingly. Now look at the little sketch in a plain fabric with scalloped edges. We are dead certain you will like it that way, too. In a case like this the only thing is to have it both ways. Pattern 1757 is another clever "find" for the woman who is adding to her summer wardrobe. It is delightful in cotton, plain or printed, or a combination of both, and just as cool and pretty in silk. Its well placed points and gathers slim the figure remarkably!

Pattern 1757 is available in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 2½ yards 39 inch fabric and 1 yard contrasting.

Pattern 1852 is available in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 4½ yards 36 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included with each pattern.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred), for each Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE WANTED.

The smartest warm weather fashions, the newest fabrics and the Summer season's outstanding accessories are illustrated and described in the NEW ANNE ADAMS PATTERN BOOK. ORDER YOUR COPY OF THIS HELPFUL NEW SUMMER BOOK. PRICE OF BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. BOOK AND PATTERN TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Address orders to Jacksonville Journal and Courier Pattern Department, 243 West 17th Street, New York City.

gregational Church. The new president, Rosalie Lowry presided. Their charts were distributed and explained. Different phases of camping were discussed. Katherine MacHitt described the characteristics of an ideal camper. What a girl should take to camp was the subject of the talk by Joan Lukeman. Mary Ator explained how to fry an egg on a hot stove and Mildred Butcherford how to build a fire in the rain. A discussion of different types of camp fires by Margaret Nelms concluded the program.

exam is Held For C. C. C. at Beardstown; Other News Notes

Beardstown, June 7.—Funeral services for Nola M. Baxter, wife of Wayne Baxter, were held Friday at 2:30 o'clock from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Himes, 511 E. Second St. Beardstown with the Rev. T. J. M. Crapp of the Methodist Church in charge.

Mrs. Vieve Derry Much and Miss Hazel Yockey furnished the music for the services and Mrs. Roy Utter, Mrs. Von Tidrick and Mrs. Ghilee Walters cared for the flowers.

The pall bearers were the Messrs. Ed Lynch, Von Tidrick, Ghilee Walters, Walter French, Roy Utter, and

Harry Banear. Interment was made in the family lot at the city cemetery. Mrs. Nola Baxter, died at her home 310 W. Second St. at 7:25 Wednesday morning, July 4th at the age of thirty years, two months and six days. She was born at Keosauqua, Illinois, on April 29th, 1904. She has lived in Beardstown about fifteen years and had received her high school education in this city.

She was united in marriage to Wayne Baxter on May 3, 1923 at Virginia, Ill. and one child, Betty Jean, was born to this union. Mrs. Baxter is survived by her husband, Wayne Baxter and her daughter Betty Jean, her parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Himes and other relatives who are: Mr. and Mrs. John Carter, Keosauqua, Ill., Ralph Kitchen, Beardstown; Lewis Carter, Hammond, Ind.; Edward Carter and Benjamin Carter, Granite City; and Ruben Carter of California.

Hold C. C. C. Exam
A short examination for C. C. C. was held Friday at 11 o'clock for Beardstown young men who wish to enter the camp. The Cass quota for the six months' camp life is twenty seven.

The Beardstown man left on the noon train Friday for St. Louis where they will be accommodated at Jefferson Barracks until later allotments are made.

News Notes
Mr. and Mrs. George Sawyer and nephew, Maurice Hagerstrom, motored to Springfield, Thursday to spend the day.

Friday noon was the final time fixed for the renewal of the licenses of all beer and liquor taverns in Beardstown. The licenses formerly held by proprietors of the taverns here expired July 1.

The Beardstown bridge over the Illinois River is under repairs by workmen of the city. The draw is receiving special attention. New boards are being put in where they are required and a coating of asphalt and sand is being applied. Street Commissioner Thomas Batly is directing the work.

Miss Mary Greene of Beardstown was hostess at a progressive Party Thursday night for five guests.

The young ladies motored to the club house at Phelps' Beach where they enjoyed music and dancing after a supper served at the Club house. From the beach they motored to town and completed the evening at the home of Mary Louise Hansmeyer where they played games and light refreshments were served.

Those in the party were the Misses Mary Greene, Mable Phelps, Betty De Sollar, Mary Louise Hansmeyer, Francis Haist, and Ethel Hulet.

The O. E. S. of Beardstown enjoyed a social time at the Masonic Temple Thursday night, after the regular business of the lodge had been transacted.

The members of the group spent the evening in sociability and light refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Mrs. Forest Reiley presided at the meeting.

The social committee included Mrs. G. B. Steadman, Mrs. G. L. Athley, Mrs. Forest Reiley, Mrs. F. L. Peterson and Mrs. Geo. Wedeking.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Dugan entertained several couples to a "pot-luck" garden party Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Balsley who are visiting here and A. D. McKenzie who left for Montana. Mr. McKenzie is employed by Mullen, Webster and Nelson, Contractors.

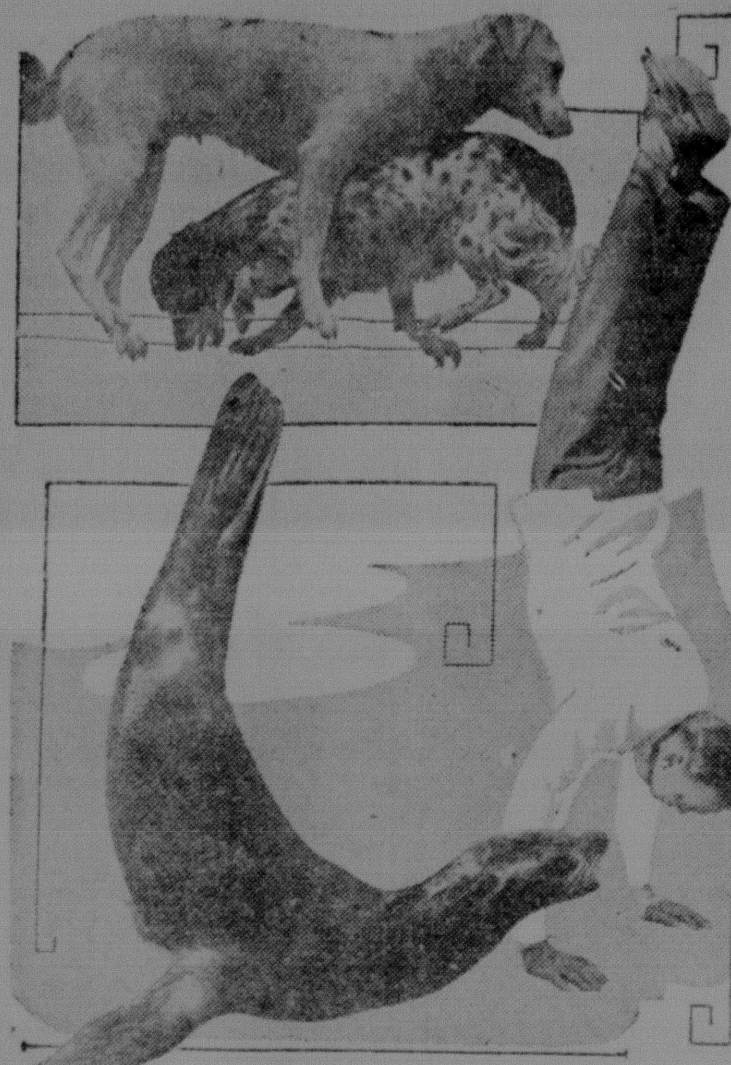

Circuit Court convened here Friday afternoon at 1:30 with Judge Lawrence E. Stone presiding. There were no cases set for trial today but the following formal orders were made:

In the case of Pearl Gregory Blair vs. The Modern Woodmen of America the defendant's motion for a directed verdict was denied and the defendant's motion for a new trial was also denied after hearing the argument of the council. The plaintiff was awarded a judgment in the sum of $2,640.00 by a jury who heard the case the 21st of June. J. E. McDonald of Rock Island and F. C. Funk argued the motions for the defendant. S. H. Cumming of Springfield and G. C. Carter represented the plaintiff.

In the case of W. F. Clark vs. O. M.

A CORRECTION
In Lukeman Clothing Co., adv. it was erroneously stated that all Wool Sport Coats were being offered at $4.75. This should have read $7.45.

Walter Jenner and Buddy the Seal

Said to be the most amazingly intelligent of the seal species, one, Buddy, flaps its fins and makes an auspicious visit to Jacksonville with the Tom Mix Roundup-Sam B. Dill Big Three Ring Circus, next Tuesday, July 10. Sleek Buddy, according to reports, displays a brainy performance that runs the gamut from musical renditions to counting by fives, and he is one of the full-fledged stars of the big-top attractions.

Tom Mix, monarch of the Western stars, and his Tony head the huge attraction.

William E. West of Murrayville spent Saturday in the city with friends.

and Stella Clark in assumpsit upon a promissory note the demurrer to the plaintiff's declaration was overruled. The defendant elected to stand by the demurred and judgment was entered in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $861.40 and costs of the suit. Orville Foreman of Jacksonville represented the defendant and W. O. Harp of Rockhouse and L. Mehrhoff of Carrollton represented the plaintiff.

An order was entered approving the investments in the trust fund of the case of Ed. L. Maine vs. Frank W. Potts.

An order approving a compromise agreement was entered in the case of the People of the State of Illinois in rel. of Oscar E. Nelson Auditor of Public Accounts vs. The Farmers and Traders State Bank of Manchester.

In the case of Peter E. Wallen vs. The Twin City Barge and Gravel Company an order of default was entered against the defendant and judgment for the plaintiff after proof and injury and damage.

An order of dissolution of the corporation was issued in the matter of the People of the State of Illinois vs. the Winchester Mutual Insurance Company, a Corporation. The corporation was organized a few years ago but never transacted any business.

Circuit court will convene here again the 16th of July at which time will be heard the petition for a Certiorari in the matter of the formation of the Glasgow Community High School District.

Thirty-one Boys to Leave for CCC Camp

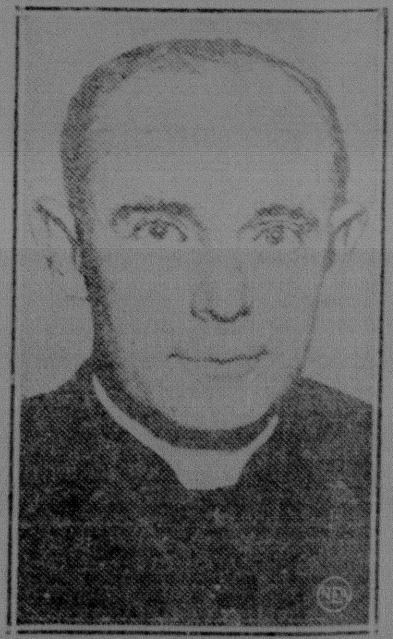

Thirty-one Jacksonville and Morgan county boys will leave Monday for the Civilian Conservation Camp near Pittsfield, where they will begin three months of service with a privilege of enlisting for an additional three months period.

The boys will be examined at 8 o'clock Monday at the American Legion Home by Captain Hostetter of the Sixth Infantry, Jefferson Barracks. Should any of the contingent be found physically unfit, alternates will take their places.

The boys who will go to the camp were selected by officials of the Illinois Emergency Relief. They are from families now receiving relief, and will work for $30 per month, $25 of which goes to the care of their dependents.

William Morris represented the Pisgah neighborhood in the city Saturday.

Chosen to Head Notre Dame

"My Fords Have All Been Honest Cars"

Figures from Ford V-8 owners show 272,815,970 miles of steady running, without a penny for repairs

THE true story of motor-car value is written-on-the-Road. There a car reveals its character. There it shows what it can do.

Figures from 34,954 Ford V-8 owners show a total of 272,815,970 miles without a penny for repairs. Their letters are further proof of Ford V-8 economy and dependability.

"I transport school children," writes a Ford owner in Minnesota, "and see plenty of tough going. In three years and eight months I have never missed a trip nor have I been

"Never Been Late in the Ford V-8"

late. My Fords have all been honest cars."

Another Ford V-8 owner writes: "A friend of mine was planning on buying a new car but was considering another make. To prove to him the economy of the Ford V-8 we made a 59-mile run. The gas used was exactly three gallons, measured for the run. It is needless to tell you that my friend now owns a V-8."

A salesman writes: "I drive about 1500 miles a month. I have not spent five dollars for repairs on the five Ford cars I have used. In more than 100,000 miles I have had no motor trouble."

A police officer writes: "To date I have operated my Ford V-8 for seven months and have driven 15,000 miles—most of which was done at speeds up to 88 miles per hour. I have not paid out one penny for repairs or replacements of any kind."

FORD V-8

FORD PRICES REDUCED
JUNE 15 TO A NEW LOW 1934 LEVEL.

A business man writes: "I am interested in a corporation operating eleven cars in the same price range as the Ford. Five are Fords and six are other makes."

"Our experience over a two-year period shows that the Ford is the most economical car to operate and it is our intention to replace the six other cars with Fords."

"I have had better results and been better satisfied with my Fords than with cars costing much more." No words of ours about the Ford V-8 could be half so convincing as these letters from owners showing what the car is doing in actual service. We invite you to drive it and let it tell you its own story of performance, comfort, safety and economy.

Chuck Klein's 19th Home Run Gives Cubs Win Over Pirates 4 to 2; Warneke Holds Bucs

Chicago, July 7.—(AP)—Chuck Klein's nineteenth home run made Lon Warneke's six-hit pitching good today for a 4 to 2 victory over Pittsburgh that promoted the Cubs to within a game and a half of first place.

Klein's blow came in the seventh inning with Billy Herman on base as the result of his third hit of the game and broke a 2-2 tie. It was Warneke's twelfth victory of the season as against five defeats.

The Pirates bunched half of their six hits for single runs in the first and second innings and then were shut out by Warneke with three scattered singles during the remaining seven innings. No Buc passed first after the second inning.

It was the Cubs' third straight victory.

FANS READY FOR BIG BALL GAME

By Edwrd J. Neill.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
New York, July 7.—(P)—Having had his say in the only ball game of the year where he appears as something more than just another figure in the gate receipts, Old Gustave Fan set out today to make the second annual All-Star battle of the National and American Leagues something for baseball to remember.

The ball players may not like the idea of working an extra day without pay, and the owners may not be over-enthusiastic about risking the delicate athletes in the midst of the pennant races, but the faithful who voted 200,000 strong for the lineup they wanted to see in action in the Polo Grounds Tuesday seem bent on filling the place with howling rosters.

As Bill Terry and Joe Cronin, rival world series pilots last fall, capitulated somewhat to the voice of the people today in announcing the tentative lineups they will manage Tuesday, the faithful passed the 35,000 mark clamoring for seats in a ball park that holds sitting room for 33,602 by actual count. There was every indication that by the time Charley Gehring of the Tigers takes his first cut at Carl Hubbell's screw ball, every pew will be filled.

Capacity turnout would bring in close to $60,000, most of which goes to the ball players' benevolent fund, and would surpass figures for the first All-Star game won by the American League, 4 to 2, in the White Sox park in Chicago last summer. Attendance there was 49,200 and receipts about $42,000.

The batting orders for Tuesday follow:

American League.
Charley Gehring, Tigers, 2b.
Heinie Manush, Senators, 1b.
Babe Ruth, Yankees, rf.
Lou Gehrig, Yankees, 1b.

CARNAHAN ACCEPTS BEARDSTOWN JOB

Bloomington, July 7.—(Special)—Jim Carnahan, one of Beardstown's most popular athletes, has resigned his position as teacher and coach in the Normal Junior high school, and will accept a similar post in his home town.

Carnahan, who has been one of the most popular men in the Normal school system, will leave a host of friends in this city. He has been declared the most outstanding Boy Scout worker in the Corn Belt area, and twice was nominated for the Community Award for outstanding boy's work.

He has been connected with the Normal Junior high school for the past four years. While there he organized and directed the Optimist Club, organized Scout and Cub packs and was a member of the Y.M.C.A. boxing team, winning 30 and losing five fights while on the team. He won the Golden Gloves championship in his division last year at Bloomington.

Carnahan's name is mentioned whenever oldtimers recall greats of Beardstown athletic history. He was a member of the football, basketball and track teams at Beardstown.

WINS GOLF TITLE

Peoria, Ill., July 7.—(P)—Norman "Chief" Coy of Peoria, using only a putter, was again in possession today of the world's marathon golf record. Coy, a strong man who bends into bars into shamrocks with his hands, toured the Madison public links course for 24 hours and hung up a record of 357 holes. This mark bettered the world's record of 343 holes, set by Bob Swanson of Los Angeles on the Nibley course at Salt Lake City, Utah, two weeks ago.

The muscle man started his attempt at 8:10 p. m. Thursday and was accompanied by six caddies bearing flash lights. Throughout the night Coy was followed by a large gallery. He finished at 8:10 p. m. Friday. It was estimated that Coy covered 90 miles during his 24 hour grind.

WON'T TURN PRO

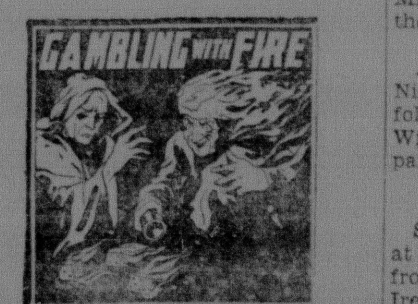

Wimbledon, Eng., July 7.—(P)—Fred Perry, recently crowned all-England tennis champion and the No. 1 ranking amateur of the world, today declined an offer to turn professional and tour the United States as a member of Bill Tilden's troupe.

The 25-year old English internationalist told the Associated Press he was "not interested" in the offer received from Bill O'Brien, American sports promoter, and calling for a guarantee of $25,000 and a share of the gate receipts.

TOM MIX IN PERSON WITH DILL CIRCUS

Sitting on top of the stage and screen world—a sensational success in motion pictures with his photographs vividly displayed in thousands of newspapers and on the sparkling marquee of additional thousands of theaters throughout the world.

That is the triumphant culmination of the hectic equine career of one, Tony the scroll-spined, horse "partner" of the famous western star, Tom Mix, who is heading the Tom Mix Round-up-Sam Dill Circus, here on Tuesday, July 10.

Tony carries his laurels with all of the poise of one born to it, and a somewhat wistful expression on his white visage suggests that he well remembers when life was not quite the present bed of roses for him.

Perhaps, in the depths of horse-meditation, he remembers his old days in Phoenix, Arizona, when a poor, old Italian farmer had all he could do to supply a few buckets of oats to him now and then.

But then, if animal eyes are capable of brightening, Tony's must certainly brighten when he remembers the advent of his benefactor, Mix, to the old Italian's farmhouse and the subsequent dealing that resulted in the popular screen cowboy buying him for the magnificent sum of $12.50.

Then colorful Tom began the course of training that has made the horse

one of the most famous in the world, although the western actor insists that Tony never needed a great deal of drilling.

"I knew Tony was smarter than a great many actors I have known when I had him but a week," he will tell you.

The debut of the great steed came in one of his master's rough riding films and Mix never appeared in a motion picture without him after that red-letter day for Tony.

Thousands of fan letters began to pour in from all parts of the world to make Tom Mix one of the most popular men who ever faced the movie cameras—and Tony, his inseparable pal, was mentioned in virtually all of them.

When the cowboy was confined to a Hollywood hospital, recently, with appendicitis, Tony was a regular visitor by Mix's special orders. A long circus engagement billed "Tom Mix and Tony," as all of the vehicles in which the two appear always do.

A full-fledged screen star—and a lifetime of oats buckets before him! Such is the paradise that confronts the erstwhile, underfed colt of a poor Italian farmer, whose name he bears—Tony. Even his talented son, Tony Jr., whom Mix rode in several of his more recent talking films, is here to make certain his father's position is respected.

SHADE IS IMPORTANT ELEMENT IN SUCCESS WITH FARM ANIMALS

Urbana, Ill., July 7.—An investment of more than $140,000,000 which Illinois farmers already have in livestock readily justifies the small amount of money and labor that might be spent in supplying shade for their animals during the extremely hot days of midsummer, says W. A. Foster, farm building specialist at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Sunlight in the winter is a tonic, giving warmth and comfort to all animal life, points out Foster. But in summer it becomes so intense and severe that livestock should have protection from its blistering rays in the middle of the day.

Nature in her way provided an abundance of shade, but man in his greed and wasteful manner has destroyed much of it by cutting down the trees. Today many pastures are void of shade and the animals confined in them must suffer from both extreme heat and insect pests.

If trees are not available for shade, artificial protection can be erected with small cost and a little labor. Foster explains. A few posts and poles covered with brush or wire, then a thin layer of stalks, weeds or straw will give adequate shade. The rain will pass through this thin structure, thereby reducing the dust caused by the stock stamping at flies.

In line with the renewed interest in soil conservation and reforestation, setting out a few trees in each field and pasture will supply a shade in a few years that will pay large returns on a small investment. In carrying out such a plan, farmers should use care in selecting the trees, choosing healthy, quick-growing varieties that will become beautiful, hardy specimens. A protecting barrier should be built around the trunks of these trees so that they will not be injured by the animals. This will not only provide shade for the livestock, but will add beauty to the farmstead.

PHILLIES TRIM BRAVES TWICE

Philadelphia, July 7.—(P)—In five solid hours of the wildest kind of baseball, the Phillies downed the Boston Braves in both ends of a double-header today, coming from behind each time to win, 9 to 8 and 11 to 10.

Altogether, the Braves used nine hurlers and the Phils eight. The Phils connected for 27 hits and the Braves for 25.

Wally Berger hammered out a pair of homers in the nightcap, but even his ninth-inning four-bagger was not sufficient to overcome the Phils edge. Pinky Whitney also smashed a circuit cut in the second contest.

First Game.
Boston . . . 900 220 040—8 13 1
Philadelphia . . . 012 010 505—9 15 0

TEAM MANAGERS TO GATHER ON TUESDAY

Final plans for organization of a "Minor League" under auspices of the Y.M.C.A. will be taken up at a meeting that has been called by Secretary Hermann for 7:30 Tuesday afternoon at the "Y" offices on West State street.

Managers and representatives of teams desiring admittance to the league will attend the conference.

The "Minor League" will be composed of boys and young men, but adults are not barred if supplementing younger talent.

Teams expected to enter the league include the Church of God, First Baptist, First Ward Wolverines, Jacksonville Colored Eagles, Journal and Courier.

A game will be played Monday at 4:30 by the First Baptist and Eagle teams.

With The Big Six

By the Associated Press
Baseball's Big Six sluggers had a quiet day at bat yesterday and consequently Heinie Manush of the Washington Senators remained in first place and there were no changes in the standing. Manush lost some ground, setting only one hit in five times at bat for an average of .492 of three points. Bill Terry of the Giants, however, got two out of four to gain two points good for a mark of .366.

The standing:
Manush, Senators . . . 74 316 61 127 .492
Gehring, Tigers . . . 75 291 74 112 .385
Gehrig, Yankees . . . 72 283 67 105 .371

Conciliators Named in Eight Counties

Appointment of eight conciliation commissioners to serve their respective counties was announced Friday by Federal Judges Charles G. Briggie and J. Earl Major. The commissioners are to serve under the recent amendment to the national bankruptcy act which allows persons with mortgages farms additional time to straighten out their affairs before the conciliators instead of taking the direct bankruptcy act and appearing before a referee.

Leon Lemet, Warsaw, was named conciliator for Hancock county some weeks ago when the first case under the new amendment was brought in to the local district court.

Conciliators appointed yesterday are: Fred B. Pollard, Rock Island, Rock Island county; L. C. Combs, Greenville, Bond county; Edward F. Filley, Mazon, Woodford county; John J. Krutzer, Mazon, Warren county; Norbert L. Hutchins, Winchester, Scott county; C. E. Fox, J. Stronghurst, Henderson county; Ernest Utter, Rushville, Schuyler county; and Clement L. Smith, Carrollton, Greene county.

All appointments were made upon recommendation of the farm debt adjustment committees, in the various counties. Additional appointments probably will be announced next week.

rest is interrupted by new disquieting reports from the secret police.

To the Storm Troopers, among whose leaders the revolt developed, Nazi party leaders issued a carefully worded statement assuring them that the troops and the party belong to each other and cannot be separated.

Many of the 2,000,000 men in the organization, vacationing under orders not to wear uniforms, face the prospect of being shoved aside in the reorganization now under way as a result of the executions among their former leaders.

The belief persists that not more than 20 percent of the full number will go back to duty, despite the numerous official efforts to reassure the men.

New accounts continued to be received of the stirring incidents of last week end when Hitler and his aides swept Nazis from high places to "traitors' graves."

Residents of bad Wiesse, near Munich, told of Hitler shouting loudly and angrily as he moved against Ernst Roehm, supreme commander of the Storm Troops.

His shouts, they said, awakened the neighborhood early Saturday morning, but before the people had time to dress the automobiles bearing Hitler and his companions had left.

Roehm was said by neighbors to have been taken in a respectable middle class pension rather than in the luxurious country mansion which served as a kind of Storm Troop headquarters.

Hitler was said also to have visited Bad Wiesse a week or so before the "purge," but to have stayed in a house across a lake from the pension where Roehm was vacationing.

It was learned in Munich that Theodore Duetschberg, candidate for president in 1932 was taken to a concentration camp last Sunday.

The former Stahlhelm leader was spending a vacation in the Tegernsee district when he was hauled out of bed at 1 A. M., and taken to police headquarters.

After being questioned, he was permitted to return under guard for his clothes and was removed to Dachau concentration camp.

USE OF TRACTORS MAKES GAINS ON ILLINOIS FARMS

An abnormal increase in the use of tractors is taking place on Illinois farms today as a result of the steady decrease in available work horses and the improvement in tractors and tractor equipment, says R. I. Shaw, assistant chief in agricultural engineering at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. The latest available census figures credit Illinois farmers with nearly 70,000 tractors, or an increase of almost 60 per cent over the 1925 tractor enumeration of 43,225.

This trend in the use of mechanical power has been stimulated in the last few years by a decided increase in the over-all efficiency of tractors, resulting from improvements in design, material and construction. Quality, dependability, adaptability and long life are now demanded by and available to tractor buyers.

Furthermore, in their efforts to reduce crop production costs, Illinois farmers who grow row crops have been attracted to the modern general-purpose type of tractor with its multiple-row cultivating and planting equipment, explains Shaw.

WINCHESTER MAN SUFFERS BROKEN BONE IN AFFRAY

Other News Notes of Interest
From Winchester And Vicinity

Winchester, July 7.—Willard Steel received a fractured cheek bone as a result of an affray with the operators of one of the concessions with the steel carnival here. Some harsh words led to blows and while Steel and the operator of the concession were scuffling in the street Steel was attacked by two other men who are said to be with the carnival. One of the men hit him with a blunt instrument of some kind which fractured his cheek bone just below his left eye.

An effort was made yesterday to swear out a state's warrant for those who had injured Steel. Apparently word of this reached the guilty parties as the concession moved out of town sometime last night.

Steel was taken to a Jacksonville hospital yesterday where X-ray pictures showed that his cheek bone had been fractured from the blow inflicted upon him.

HOLD FUNERAL FOR O. B. YEAKEL AT MEREDOSIA

Other News Notes of Interest
From Meredosia And
Vicinity

Meredosia, July 7.—Funeral services for Otto B. Yeakel were held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James L. McLain, conducted by Rev. D. L. Jeffers of Ashland, former pastor here, assisted by Rev. H. F. Higgins, pastor of the M. E. church. Mrs. Charles G. Weghoff and Mrs. T. W. Burdick sang the songs, "We Are Going Down the Valley" and "Beautiful Garden of Prayer," with Mrs. L. H. Yost as accompanist. Rev. Jeffers sang as solo "When They Ring the Golden Bells."

The flowers were cared for by Mrs. Frank Yeakel, Misses Rachel Leffler, Lorena Daniels, Mary Jane Payne and Ellen Payne. The casket bearers were: Robert Hyatt, Charles Yost, Harry Yost, Howard Edlen, Wesley Hobson and Glen Kendrick. Interment was made in Oakland cemetery.

Otto B. Yeakel, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Yeakel, was born at Meredosia, Ill., May 28, 1898, and died July 4, 1934, at Meredosia. He had reached the age of 36 years, 1 month and 6 days.

He grew to manhood in this place, receiving his education in the public schools here. He was employed for a number of years with the C. I. P. S. Co., both here and in other places, giving efficient service wherever he was placed. He was united in marriage with Margaret McLain Oct. 21, 1919, in this city, where most of their married life was spent. To this union were born two children, Maxine and Teddy, the latter passing away at the age of four years.

Besides his wife and daughter, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Yeakel, three sisters, Mrs. Harry Leffler and Mrs. Charles Harbert of this city and Mrs. Harry Tibbs of Florida, and three brothers, Frank, Marvin and Carl, all of this city. One sister, Mrs. Millie Payne, and a half brother, John Davis, preceded him in death. One sister, Catherine, died in infancy.

"Nanno," as he was familiarly called by everyone, was of a genial friendly disposition, and was well liked by his host of friends.

A meeting was held Thursday evening at Browns Service station building in White Hall by members of the Illinois Workers Alliance. It was open to the public and was for the purpose of further organizing a local of the society in White Hall. A charter has been applied for to cover that city's local. There are 74 members enrolled in White Hall. Roodhouse received a charter for a local Thursday. Mr. Crabtree is in charge of the Roodhouse local and Mr. Kessler is chairman at White Hall. The meeting was presided over by Mr. Shipley of Carrollton and a committee from Mac-coupin county. The purposes of the alliance is to reorganize the unemployed in this state, especially those in emergency relief to better the working conditions and distribution of relief. The officers again stated that there was rumors that the alliance was affiliated with the community movement. This they again emphatically deny and they state that those meetings have been open to all and that the organization wants nothing to do with the communist or other radical party. There were about 200 persons present at this meeting, about twenty-five of those were from Carrollton. There was a number of women present.

Another meeting is to be held at the same hall next Thursday. And a meeting is to be called in the next week at Carrollton for the purpose of organizing a local here.

News Notes
